Two And Half Million Bond Vote Tues.

MIL'S MUSINGS

By Richard Milbrodt

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce will have two meetings this month. Principle reason is a long hassle at the regular session (held monthly, the first Tuesday) over exactly how much civic responsibility the Chamber should assume. Lemon Grove's only official business or, it is continually bombarded with problems brought about by a lack of governmental services in the region. It has reached the point now where the Chamber finds little time left for aiding the businessmen and promoting business after the various and sundry governmental difficulties are handled. Since it is primarily for the promotion of business that it was originated, the Chamber is slightly befuddled. Chalk this one up as another reason for the need of a permanent political authority here.

TWO MONTHS AFTER CONGRESSMAN UTT received a statement for his subscription renewal to the REVIEW, and paid for same, an amazed STEVE WESTOVER went to work one morning to find a crumpled piece of paper at his lumberyard's office doorstep. Examination showed it to be none other than Congressmen Utt's statement. Addressed to his Washington (D. C.) office, some mystery exists as to exactly how the

Lov Johnson Wins Grove's Fairest Title

Here is the girl who will represent Lemon Grove in the Fairest of the Fair Contest.

The Grove contest was sponsored by the Woman's Club Juniors.

Loy will compete with other district winners from all over the county for the "Fairest" title.

Grove May Be Key To School Bond Issue In Tuesday's Election

Lemon Grove, representing about 13% of the Grossmont High School District, will troop to the polls Tuesday to help decide the fate of the $2,500,000 high school bond issue.

In the Grove, voters will go, in most cases, to the schools to which they send their children, to cast their votes. Voters, without children to guide on, will with a few exceptions, go to the school nearest their residence. Schools serving as polling places are Monterey Heights, San Miguel, Vista La Mesa and the Intermediate School at School Lane and Central, near the firehouse.

A greater than normal interest is being shown in the April 21 election. Many persons considered schools and school personel for the first time last fall when a spirited election centered around unification.

What voters will be deciding at this election is whether or not bonds shall be floated for the construction of a high school in El Cajon and for the purchase of two additional high school sites, one of which is eyed for the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area.

What it will mean, taxwise, is that a 60c rate will be levied against property owners which is 20c above the level chargeable under the rule that makes 40c the rate when a district is taxed to capacity.

Political observers locally point out that the issue may experience difficulty in gaing the needed majority vote needed. El Cajon, they point out, will probably vote solidly for it but that La Mesa may split as they did in the fall elections.

Lemon Grove is a questionable area. Opponents to a proposed unified high school district snowed under the plan and should this group continue to hold together, Lemon Grove may well be the key to passing the issue, observers say.

Local Civil Defense Under Way

A Civil Defense Auxiliary Fireman's Training School began April 1* at the Youth Center, under the direction of L. J. Wadsworth, Assistant Director of Civil Defense. A part of the ten week training course will be held at the Lemon Grove Fire Department with the final meetings conducted while actually fighting fires at Gillespie Field.

The following Lemon Grove men will attend the Fireman's Training School according to Milton F. Lear, Zone Warden. Casper Admunsen, J. K. Pentavich, James K. Martin, E. F. Willequer, A. C. Anderson, Arthur G. Connors, J. Birge Anthony Alvin Cardoza, L. F. Palasik, and R. G. Smith.

THE EDITOR LETTERS TO

Mr. Max Goodwin
Editor
Lemon Grove Review
Dear Mr. Goodwin:

The assumption in your editorial that a unified Lemon Grove School District would have been better off in so far as payment for high school facilities is not justified by the facts. The State building fund is a loan fund. Only that portion of the loan unpaid at the end of 30 years is forgiven.

If we assume an average assessed valuation of $15,000,000 in the Lemon Grove district for over a period of the next 30 years, a rate of 40c for 20 years would produce $1,200,000 for high school purposes. A rate of 30c for 10 additional years would increase that by $450,000. The total of $1,650,000 would be available to pay interest, retire existing bonds and finance new construction. The estimated cost of a high school for 800 students would be $1,000,000. If this money were obtained from state funds the portion to be considered as a gift would be very small indeed. The state loan would only provide for deferred payment on the high school level.

Did the people of Lemon Grove reject a "bargain"' in defeating the proposed unification last fall? The Lemon Grove share of the now proposed $2,500,000 bond issue would be $325,000. If we allow a similiar figure as Lemon Grove's share of a bond issue to build a high school in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area in 1957-60 we have a total obligation of $650,000 which is $350,000 below the cost of building a separate school.

Upon examination the "bargain" you refer to in your editorial would appear to be rather expensive.

The most important job before the high school district is the provision of facilities for the children. The most distressing part of the aritcle is the disposition to continue a controversy to the detriment of the needs of the youth in this district. The education of Lemon Grove children will be benefitted if past differences are dropped by both factions in a joint effort to solve the immediate problem.

Yours very truly,
Lewis F. Smith,
Dist. Superintendent.

Ed's note: The REVIEW editorial referred to a high school in Lemon Grove expressly for Lemon Grove, around which much of the community life would revolve.

Board of Sups Rejects Stops For Mass

A request for four way stop control at Broadway and Massachusetts was turned down by the County Board of Supervisors, it was revealed this week by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Following a request for action after nearly 50 residents of the intersection area had petitioned the chamber for assistance, contents of a petition were made known to the County Board.

In its report the board pointed out that the Division of Highways is considering possible reconstruction or re-alignment of State Highway 94 and that no interim improvements are being presently considered.

Four way stops are not generally in use on state highways in California and none is in use in the County they reported.

BUSINESS GROUP UNANIMOUS FOR PLANNING

About 35 Lemon Grove business persons unanimously voted to aid in setting up machinery for a Lemon Grove master plan at a meeting Tuesday night at the Youth Center.

They heard Dr. Willis Miller, County Planning Director and Joe Mack, County Road Commissioner tell of the importance of planning to a growing community. Absent was County Supervisor Dave Bird who promised to attend but did not.

Dr. Miller agreed to work with a committee to work out a development program. Members of the business group agreed to ask each service and business club to supply a member to a local planning commission to work with Dr. Miller. This followed a discussion of offering easier accessibilty between Lomta Village and Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The meeting was under the direction of Chamber board member Robert Gauldin.

The County Supervisors advised the Grove Chamber of Commerce Wednesday that the Alton-Cypress Road improvement would be in the 1953-54 budget and that the County Road Commission had been authorized to acquire additional rights-of-way.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION BUILDING PLANS APPROVED BY BOARD

The Lemon Grove School Board this week approved a plan to give the county a right-of-way over the property on which the new District Administration building will be built. The board observed that a 30' road would be necessary for their own use and by making 10 additional feet available and dedicating it to the county, it would bebuilt and maintained by the county. The proposed length of this road will be 295 feet.

The board then authorized the

Grove Red Cross Total Touches $2,000

Final total for the extended Red Cross Drive in Lemon Grove touched just under $2,000.00, Mrs. H. L. Bowers ,local Red Cross chairman reported yesterday.

The drive, originally scheduled to wind up at the month's end was stretched 10 additional days when the county total prove to be far short of the goal.

Sparked by the Grove Woman's Club and assisted by the Woman's Juniors and the Business Women's League, the groups turned on the steam and passed the estimated $1,500.00 which leaders felt would be the total.

Late returns, and contributions given a places of employment and credited to the Grove drive helped bolster the total Mrs. Bowers said.

The Grove goal was $3,000.00 but the ratio was somewhat better than other parts of the county, Mrs. Bowers reported.

Teacher Shortage Continues In Grove School

The acute teacher shortage which was mentioned in a recent article in the Review has not eased any during the past few days here in Lemon Grove. As was stated, approximately 20 new teachers must be employed by September to fill vacancies or take over new classrooms. At the present time only three applicants have indicated a desire to work here next year, and of course none of these has signed a contract yet.

Lemon Grove officials, in a move to secure available teachers, visited colleges in Southern California and contacted other schools in the East and Midwest by letter. A total of 69 colleges and universities have been contacted; out of that number, only eight teachers will be available for interviews, and most colleges report that they have no teacher candidates available.

Many of the surrounding districts are sending personal representatives to the eastern states to urge teachers to accept contracts. In order to attract them, these districts are paying particular attention to beginning salaries. The medium beginning

Lemon Grove residents observe a refreshing contrast to the usual Federal proposals having to do with the Nation's health, a measure has been brought forward by Congressman Bolton of Ohio that neither proposes a tax on health nor a fancy new government bureau for dispensing pills.

Mr. Bolton proposes that all medical and dental expenses, as well as the price of premiums in voluntary health plans be made deductible for Federal income tax purposes. At present, only those medical and dental expenses in excess of five per cent of the taxpayers gross income are deductible.

For obvious reasons, Mr. Bolton's amendment probably doesn't appeal to the many bureaucrats and State medicine advocates who for so long have demonstrated such an unusual interest in the Nation's health. It is the type of surgery on Income Tax Form 1040, however, that most taxpayers will consider decidedly healthy.

Suzy McHenry Announces Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. McHenry Sr., 1783 DuPont, Lemon Grove, announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne, to William James Curry, son of Mrs. Robert H. Luratea Hutchings, senior, has a very useful hobby, she has made many of her very stylish outfits that she can be seen sporting around the campus. Beverlee Deem, junior, likes to swim. (who doesn't). She swam 28 miles in the recent Mississippi swim. Danny Stewart, sophomore, is raising tropical fish. His favorite is the angel fish. Jeanne Dunbar, junior, enjoys drawing. She has drawn some very nice portraits, by the way. Jimmy Dorman, Senior ,is a well known equestrian. He especially likes to ride jumping horses. Don Crooks and Marge Hadzima both enjoy spear fishing at La Jolla Coves, when the season is ripe. Mr. Kerr, Drivers Education instructor, raises English Springers. At present he has kicks in being a champ at it. And Mrs. Bogle, attendance office worker, keeps busy with housework and two six-year-old pups.

The new Helix Cafeteria has really been a "nervous" place for food and frolic. It opened on February 1. Besides furnishing the students with good food and serving as a converted study-hall ,this place has been the majestic host to the Pappy Waldorf Banquet, March of Dimes Dance, Choir Christmas Program Valentine Dance, Choir's Old Fashion Box Social and PTA meetings for the teachers and parents. It has, beaten on its new tile floors, feet of male can-can dancers to a wrestling exhibition. This spacious cafeteria, just now finished, has proved its usefulness as a community center. It recently finished a Style Show and has yet a Hi-Steppers Banquet to show off to the public.

"Highland Highlights" . . . Juniors are now paying their Junior Dues for next year's Prom and Ditch Day and Senior Banquet . . . There was a dance last Friday nite (April 10) from 9:00-12:30 p. m. at the La Mesa Youth Center, most of the kids there represented Helix, St. Augustine, Grossmont, and Kearney . . . Helix Lassies now can get their school scarfs for only one dollar . . . Loy Johnson, whom resides in Monterey Heights, won the title of Miss Lemon Grove, and she will represent our community to try and win the "Fairest of the Fair" contest . . . Some Helix High girls went, on April 15, to visit San Diego's Woman's College.

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

Several controversial bills fell by the wayside or were delayed during the week. The Government Organization Committee postponed action on two anti B girl bills.

A bill making Bible reading in schools permissive was taken under advisement by the Assembly Education Committee — a polite way of saying, "The bill is dead."

Lobbyist Screening Committee of the Assembly and Senate have refused credentials to Arthur Samish, Representative of the California State Brewers Institute.

The Senate Committee denied a lobbying card to pension promoter George McLain. He said that he intends to request a hearing.

A bill designed to define the powers of counties in regulating billboards through zoning and other ordinances failed to get approval of a Senate Committee.

An attempt to liberalize workmen's compensation insurance fell short of the necessary votes to get it out of committee.

A measure that would end death penalties in California has been beaten in the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee cut the civilian defense budget $328,000 and drew fire from Warren. He asserted this would virtually wreck the program. The committee action would do away with seven regional officers and several other jobs. The Assembly Committee voted the cut when it was developed that there are twenty-one drawing salaries from $10,000 to $12,000 per year and 23 over $6,000. It voted to eliminate the brass.

Warren explained that more than 20,000 people are working around the clock on the ground observer crew. He said, "With all the sincerity I possess I urge the Legislature not to throttle civilian defense."

The budget will still have $1,076,517 for civilian defense. The request was for $1,404,937.

Political editor ,Earl Behrens of the San Francisco Chronicle and spokesman for the Correspondence Association, asked the Assembly Rules Committee permission to take pictures of the Legislative Committee during a hearing. There has been a ban on taking pictures either on the floor of the Legislature or of committees for many years. Supporting Behrens in his request were: Dick Bergholtz of the San Diego papers, writers for the Sacramento Bee, and the wire service reporters. They were instructed to draw up some ground rules and submit them to the Rules Committee. Speaker Silliman stated he will ask chairmen of committees to take up the subject of picture taking at their next committee meetings.

The ban had been placed on picture taking years ago when photographers would catch members who had fallen asleep in committee meetings.

An Assembly Committee unanimously passed a secret government bill by Assemblyman Brown that the local government bill requires all local agencies from county supervisors and city council down to school and district boards to issue notices of meetings at least 24 hours in advance to newspapers requesting it.

My own bill, designed to seek aid from responsible relatives outside the state and to place a lien on people receiving old age assistance if it was proven they had collected fraudulently, was delayed for one week, in order to work out ways to make the bill more easily enforced. The bill was introduced at the request of San Diego County District Attorney, Don Keller.

Senator Regan's highway bill is out of committee. The Senate will act on it Tuesday. The 4800-mile mainline highway bill would get top priority on increased revenue. Speaker Silliman termed the bill a "political hodge-podge."

Assemblywoman Kathryn Niehouse resigned as a member of the Joint Highway Factfinding Committee, and I was appointed by Speaker Silliman to the position. I was very much pleased by the appointment as the highway legislation is one of the big issues of the session.

Assemblyman Fleury announced that the sub-committee will resume hearings next week on unemployment insurance irregularities. The chiseling may run into millions of dollars a year.

Senator Kraft's bill to raise the Board of Supervisors' pay to $8,400 was sent to the Governor's desk for signature. Assemblyman Bulen's delaying tactics backfired on him when he became confused on methods of legislative procedure and found himself out on a limb with the bill gone.

Dancing Class Popular at VLM

The eighth grade class at the Lemon Grove Intermediate School enjoyed a third evening of dance instruction at the Vista La Mesa School auditorium Monday evening. Under the sponsorship of the Grove School P. T. A. executive board, the children are being given an opportunity to have five group lessons in ball room dancing by Mrs. Nash, with Marshall Sleet at the piano. Approximately sixty boys and girls have been attending each time.

Sponsors and chaperons at Monday's class included Mmes. Robert Beckham, John Burgreen, Wilfred Gooch, Peg Darroch, Evelyn Whalen, Vernon E. Linden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Avery, and Ben I. Schei, school principal.

GERARD PIEL, Mag. Publ. in S. F. —"Now the Industrial Revolution is concerned with mechanization of the human brain."

R. R. Caldwell, Sacto., Highway Patrol Commissioner—"One of the best ways to teach safety to children is for parents to set good examples."

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR., journalist and lecturer in Calif.—"If Russia moves in Europe, France and Italy will go Communist overnight."

JIM BAKER, S. F. TV director—"A commercial is the pause that depresses."

The following twelve new members were received into the First Congregational Church last Sunday: Miss Diana Allison, 6905 Central; Mrs. Hattie L. Beck, 7150 Broadway; Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cabral, 8248 Palm St.; Robert O. Haas, 7947 Nichals; Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Hathaway of 7495 Mohawk Drive, San Diego; Mrs. Alta Lemke, 8248 Palm; Mrs. Irene Seol, 8875 Mariposa; Miss Barbara Jo Thomas, 7112 Central; and Miss Peggy Thomas, 7486 Pacific Ave.

Furniture Fashions

The low silhouette, which makes small rooms look larger, is the big furniture fashion news this year. These new low pieces—and it goes for living room tables as well as sofas and chairs—appear to occupy little room area but provide maximum seating and surface space.

The handsome Modern room shown above, a study in black and white, is part of a series of room scenes commemorating the 75th anniversary of Grand Rapids, Michigan, as a furniture producing city.

Interesting style notes are the walnut coffee table, which comes in a choice of decorator colors: white, chartreuse, blue and turquoise; and the leather-laced, foam rubber-cushioned "loafer," in the foreground. It is 30 inches square and seats two comfortably. Legs are ebonized walnut.

The sectional sofa and the diversified occasional tables may be arranged in a variety of ways, depending on the requirements of the hostess—whether for the serving of party or family meals—or just for everyday living.

Phillips-Conner Wed in Naval Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Conner announce the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Joan Phillips of Lemon Grove to Mr. Robert Eugene Luke, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Luke of Thomson, Georgia.

The ceremony was read by Chaplain Wickman in the Naval Chapel, U. S. Naval Station April 4th.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Janet Byars of Washington D. C. and Miss Hazel Phillips of Lemon Grove. Cousin Babbett Conner of San Clemente served as flower girl.

Best man to the groom was Mr. Rnder W. Fuit, U. S. N. and ushers were Mr. James Clecker and Archibald Frye, both of the U. S. Navy.

The reception was held at the recreation hall of Leewood Trailer Court with the bride's aunts assisting. Mrs. Helen Barnes served cake with Mrs. Betty Purcells at the punch bowl and Mrs. Rose Rogers and Mrs. Jeanette Conner pouring.

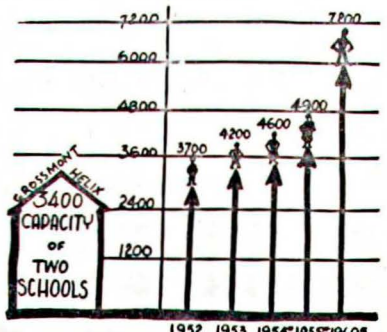
GROSSMONT UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT

CAPACITY AND ENROLLMENT 1952-1960



*Estimates based upon elementary school enrollments

Enrollment has already exceeded capacity by 300. In 1955, 1500 students will be unhoused unless additional classrooms are built. By 1960 the 7200 enrollment will overwhelm the facilities now available.

The failure to approve the construction of additional facilities would destroy the birthright of young Americans in our community. They deserve an equal educational opportunity which can be provided through a well planned construction program.

ENROLLMENT by GRADES •

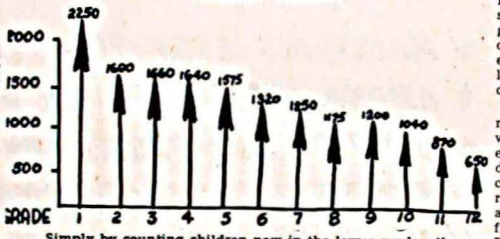
1952-1953



Simply by counting children now in the lower grades, the enrollment in the high school will double by 1960. The grade 8 enrollment is nearly double that of grade 12. In turn, grade 1 enrollment is nearly double that in grade 8.

Census figures show that there are more children of preschool age than are enrolled in grades 1 through 8.

The critical need for classrooms right now will become more and more crucial in the next few years. Action must be taken now to prevent a breakdown of education in our area.

SCIENCE and your Health

GERMS FIGHT BACK

by Science Features

It is common knowledge that once you contract certain diseases you are not likely to get them again. Chicken pox and scarlet fever are examples of diseases which seldom strike the same person twice. The reason for this is that your body's defenses usually make you resistant to these particular diseases after the first attack.

In recent years, scientists have become aware of a similar type of resistance which some microbes can develop against the chemical weapons devised to combat them. Thus a microbe originally known to be affected by a sulfa drug or antibiotic may after a time develop strains resistant to the drug.

Development of such resistant strains is the microbe's way of fighting back. An example of this is the staphylococcus family of bacteria, some strains of which have become resistant to penicillin and other antibiotics. Under a microscope, these germs, which cause such infections as boils and abscesses, look like clusters of tiny grapes.

Fortunately this problem of bacterial resistance is far from hopeless. Not long ago, scientists of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., announced the discovery of a new antibiotic —one of the miraculous earth-mold drugs—which is particularly effective against resistant bacteria. Named magnamycin, it has recently been made available to doctors around the world.

A report in the medical journal Antibiotics and Chemotherapy chronicled the success of this new antibiotic in laboratory tests. These tests indicate that magnamycin is effective against germs that have developed resistance to the antibiotics now in general use, including the resistant strains which cause a rare staphylococcal enteritis — a disease not unlike acute food upsets.

A separate report by a physician of the University of California School of Medicine also records the successful use of magnamycin against tonsillitis, pneumonia, amoebic dysentery and local infections such as boils and abscesses. However, the scientists believe that magnamycin's major importance lies in its success against resistant germs.

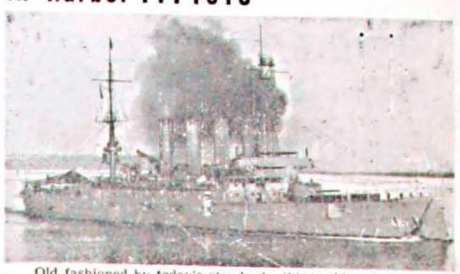
USS SAN DIEGO in Harbor . . . 1915



Old fashioned by today's standards, this coal-burning armored cruiser was the pride of the Navy when completed in 1907. Originally named the "USS California," the ship was rechristened the "USS San Diego" when a new battleship was named the "California."

Capable of 18 knots an hour, both the speed and the firing power were less than half that of present-day destroyers. Gun crews were directed by an officer from the foretop who gauged the accuracy of the fire by sight. This photograph, from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company, shows the cruiser in San Diego harbor in 1915.

Pressed into service during World War I, the ship was on a training cruise with a crew of midshipmen when struck by a floating mine near Fire Island, off the Atlantic Coast. The ship sank—the largest vessel lost by the United States in World War I.

Local Teachers Attend Spring-Day Institute

All schools were closed in the Lemon Grove School District on Monday, while teachers and administrators joined others from San Diego County at the Spring-Day Institute held in Balboa Park. Approximately 2000 teachers heard Dr. Lawrence Clark Powell, librarian at the University of California at Los Angeles, deliver an interesting address, "The California Bookhunter Abroad." They heard the Helix High School choir, under the direction of Robert A. Rue.

Afternoon sessions included many section meetings and workshops. Children's literature, education of exceptional children, helps in teaching art, social studies frameworks, and remedial reading programs were among the many interesting fields open to the educators. Participating in section meetings from Lemon Grove were Albert Van Zanten, a leader in the Moral and Spiritual Values in Education group, Peg Darroch, recorder for that group, and Harry Butler, recorder for the progam in special education in the secondary schools.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY Dr. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 10:1—11:1. DEVOTIONAL READING: John 18: 8-20.

Immortal Twelve

IF the twelve Apostles wanted to join your church, would you let them in? Peter Marshall thought not. Books of sermons are often dull reading, but Dr. Marshall's book called Mr. Jones, Meet the Master is as fascinating a book as you are likely to find anywhere. One of his famous sermons goes over an imagined application of the twelve Apostles for membership in a typical American church. One by one each man is rejected—all but Judas! As a man of money the church wants his services.

Dr. Foreman

Unpromising Material

Not to steal Peter Marshall's sermon, nor to spoil your appetite for it in case you do read it, but just to explore the possibilities, let's imagine yourself passing on the application of these men for church membership. There is Simon Peter . . . Well! He is a fisherman and a sailor, and you know what sailor's language is, sometimes. A man noted for talking before he thinks. Not among our best people (they would say in Capernaum); lives down by the docks somewhere, smells of fish. No education, very limited background. Better wait. Maybe he could find a little chapel down nearer his work he'd be happier there. And then there's James and his brother John. Hot-tempered and ambitious, in fact so conceited they're hard to live with. They would certainly want to be at the top—if thrones are passed out they will want one apiece in the front row. If they are crossed they are likely to call down fire from heaven—not that they'll get it, but that's the kind of young men they are. No, they will be too hot to handle. Let them go join some sect that will give their emotions a chance. We'll be too slow and too cold for them.

What Is Sincere Prayer?

Another concrete case that Jesus takes up is prayer. There is a story that once a minister was told after service: "Doctor, that was the most eloquent prayer ever delivered to a Boston audience." Jesus would say that a prayer delivered to an audience—Boston, Bombay or Barber Junction, no matter where—isn't a prayer, it's just a way of showing off. A certain professor of English used to quote famous authors in his public prayers: "As Shakespeare has said, O Lord . . . Thou rememberest what the poet Browning hath said . . ." Now there's no use quoting poetry to the Lord; that s suited to a speech, not to a prayer. Of course Jesus did not mean that we are never to pray in the presence of others. He himself prayed in public on various occasions. Leading others in prayer is a rare gift and should be cultivated. But while prayer, sincere prayer, can be with others and for others, it should never be to others. Some preachers "beat the congregation over their heads with a prayer" as the saying is. Some deacons have been known to put long and dull prayer-meeting talks into the form of a prayer. One elder well-versed in Scripture used to go through the whole story of the Bible, in outline, every time he was called on for a prayer.

Sincerity in Devotion

Jesus points out where sincerity is most important of all: in our devotion to God. We cannot serve God and Mammon. God does not want part-time devotion. By serving God, Jesus means living by God's side, under God's orders. Serving Mammon means more than simply serving money—most Mammon-worshippers would deny that they "serve" money. It means living your life not as God would have you but in order to "get ahead," to make money, to stand well with people who have money. Serving God means living as Jesus lived, for others; serving Mammon means trying to be served by as many persons as possible. Success, in Mammon's terms, is measured in terms of how many people work for you; success in God's terms, is measured in terms of how much you have helped others. Sincere devotion to God must be devotion all life through.

MIL'S MUSINGS

statement wound up in Lemon Grove. Especially since it was not in an envelope, and since Utt resides in Santa Ana.

And speaking of our federal representative, a local resident recently phoned the newspaper office and asked who was our representative. "Jim Utt", the newspaper's secretary astutely replied. A long silence followed whereupon th caller, somewhat indignantly, again queried, "who is our Congressional representative?" "I told you," replied the REVIEW'S pert secretary, "Jim Utt." "Ohhh," answered the caller, "I thought you hiccuped."

THE DAY THAT SCHOOL BOND ballots were received in the Grove, along with a notice stating location of the polling place, and another piece of paper about the bond issue, quite a fuss resulted. A number of citizens hastened to draw up a petition to the Grand Jury calling for investigation of an attempt to mail propaganda with the sample ballot. Prior to such weighty action, reminiscent of the recent unification fuss involving the Grand Jury, the legal counsel for the County Board of Education was contacted. Close inspection of the election code provisions disclosed that along with the sample ballot, and notice of election, another notice may also be sent to the voters explaining the reason for the issue to be voted upon. It may also indicate why it is necessary and its purpose. Thus the so-called "proganda" fell completely within the intent of the law.

Aside from this, we wonder why the forthcoming bond election and the May 15 school board election were not combined. School elections are notorious for large numbers of voters staying away from the polls. If the two issues were combined, the dual purpose for voting might attract a larger turnout. Not to mention, of course, the financial savings involved.

Civil Hearings

Lemon Grove.

Following submission of the report, the assembled audience called for a new group to be organized that would weigh the final report and come up with a positive recommendation for one of the plans of government. This recommendation would presumably act as a guide for further citizen activity.

COMMITTEE PROCEDURES QUESTIONED

The exact status of this special committee, titled the Committee on Government, is not clear. Its membership is apparently unlimited, and no time limit has been set for its work. It is the latter two factors that caused a conference of business men last week to express bewilderment in the functioning of the citizens' group.

Commending the original investigation, and its impartial flavor, the busness men declared that now was the time for action, not further study. "We (Lemon Grove) must go one way or another, additional study is not needed," a spokesman for the group said. The businessmen concluded that in view of the confused condition of the Investigating Committee and its subcommittees, since conclusion of the report, a thorough clarification of the organizations structure, duties, and objectives are in order.

EVENTFUL MEETING EXPECTED

It is hoped that the present officers will be able to clear up this situation at the meeting Tuesday evening. In view of the recent developments reported above, and the fact that interest in the community's future is spiraling upward, the Tuesday's conclave promises a large crowd, and an interesting session.

Proposals for Lemon Grove's political future now under consideration are: annexation to the City of San Diego, annexation to the City of La Mesa, or incorporation as a sixth class city. In existence for one year, the Civic Investigating Committee is headed by John Dail. Response to the activities of the C. I. C. to date has been quite good. As a result of this definite interest observers of local current affairs have indicated that whatever final action that may result will certainly have popular approval. They reason that throughout the entire functioning of the C. I. C. any single controlling interest has been totally absent.

Papas Flunk Terpsichore at VLM 'Dad's Night'

Thursday was "Dad's Night" at the Vista La Mesa P. T. A. Burton Tiffany, chairman for the evening, presented an interesting and entertaining program. Fathers of the fifth grade pupils joined their children in a "day at school." While four pupils from Mrs. Schwalm's class and four from Mr. Masters' class, together with their dads, prepared assignments in social studies, arithmetic, English, and art, the remaining pupils and their dads were taught songs by Ada Krimsky, district vocal music supervisor, and learned a square dance under Mr. Masters' instruction.

From the spectators' point of view, the high point of the evennig was when fifth grade boys were replaced by their dads in the dance sets. Although they seemed to have all left feet at times, the fathers struggled valiantly with the steps and turns.

After the musical interim, prepared assignments were reported to the class and the "day's school work" was summarized by the chairman, Dad's Night at school was appropriately ended with the thought for the day expressed in a poem read by Robert Brown.

school architect, Sam Hamill, to proceed with the plans for the administration building.

The building will be constructed with federal funds that need not be repaid since the money was an outright grant. If not used at this time for this purpose, the money will revert to the federal treasury and so be lost to the district . . . new state money must be used for the construction of classrooms. All classrooms needed will come out of Prop. 24 money . . .

Also discussed at the meeting were teacher's salaries to a level that would give starting teachers approximately $3700 per year, an increment of approximately $400 per annum.

Teacher Shortage

salary in Los Angeles will be about $3800 this fall, and two districts near there will offer $4000 to new teachers.

This of course indicates that if the schools of Lemon Grove are to secure the necessary instructors, who seem to be at a premium right now, they will have to raise salaries in keeping with increases elsewhere.

The whole problem is due, in large part, to huge increases in school enrollments. In the United States there were 10,500,000 children under five years of age in 1940; the last census shows close to 17,000,000 now. California has increased 53% in poplation from 1940 to 1950, and the population of children under five has increased 144%. Statistics show that between now and 1956, this state will need 60,000 new teachers. Two-thirds of these will be needed in elementary schools. Unfortunately colleges today are graduting only enough to meet one-third of the great need.

Who's going to teach the children? The schools in Lemon Grove feel that they have a definite obligation to the children of this community, and in order to meet this obligation when faced with such an acute shortage of teachers, they'll need the help, the understanding, and the support of the entire community. Our schools must be staffed for today's children so that they may be prepared to cope intelligently with problems of future generations.

Committee Named for School Cost Study

Assisted by the Citizens Advisory Committee, the governing board of the Grossmont Union High School District will study ways to reduce costs of school building. The members of the committee are William De Groot, Clifford Smith, Dr. H. D. Cornell, Mrs. Nina Ray, D. M. Walker and Mrs. Helen Baxter.

The study will emphasize ways to reduce costs without detriment to the educational program, without substitution of inferior materials which lead to excessive maintenance, and without violating health and safety factors.

Functional design and honest treatment of materials will be used to obtain pleasing appearance. Extras and gingerbread will be held to a minimum.

The building program does not include gymnasium or auditorium because of the future classroom needs of the district. A cafeteria has been included because it will be used throughout the day except during lunch period for study hall purposes.

You Still Can Plant Cinerarias In Lemon Grove

Have you been admiring the riot of color in gardens where fall-planted cinerarias are blooming? It is not too late, says the Bedding Plant Advisory Board, to set out cineraria plants in Lemon Grove from flats now, for a bright showing late this spring in your shade garden.

Success with cinerarias planted at this time of the year depends primarily upon choosing a cool location, with well-drained soil that is about half humus. Water the plants generously, spray or dust regularly to protect against aphis, white fly and leaf miners, and you should reap your reward of gay blooming plants in about two months.

With their strong purples, reds and other striking tones, cinerarias are most effective when planted alone or with a border of white for muted contrast. Among the plants suitable for such a border are dwarf white begonia, white primula obconica or arabis alpinis.

You will find three basic types of cineraria generally offered in flats, according to the Board. Most popular is the strain with large flowers (about 3") and dwarf plants which grow only a foot or so tall. Less used for bedding, though quite popular for potting, is the multiflora nana type with dwarf plants and small flowers. The stellata type, as its name implies, has star-like single flowers. It grows 2 to 3 feet high, and has a tendency to reseed itself. All three have the characteristic cineraria colors, last well as cut flowers, and deserve a spot in your shade garden.

An important goal of the American Cancer Society is to improve services to needy cancer patients.

Since 1900 cancer has risen from eighth posiiton as a cause of death to second place today, the American Cancer Society says.

The first cancer operation for removal of a lung occurred 20 years ago. The patient is alive and well today, the American Cancer Society says. But in that same period deaths from cancer of the lung have increased fivefold.

Students Face Half Sessions If Issue Flops Claims School Supt.

Heavy enrollment in Grossmont and Helix High Schools will force the school district to limit students to half - day schooling if the $2500.000 bond issue is not approved Tuesday, stated Supt. Lewis F. Smith this week.

Next year enrollment will exceed capacity by over 800. By Sept. 1955 the number of unhoused students will rise to over 1500. In 1960 the capacity will be nearly 3000 under the anticipated enrollment of over 7200, he stated. Construction of two new schools the size of Helix High School wuold be needed by 1960.

After consideration of this criitcal situation the Grossmont Board of Trustees and the Grossmont Citizen Advisory Committee, a building program was approved. The program provides for planning and construction of a high school for 1600 students in El Cajon Valley within 2 years and purchase of two additional sites for future development. One of these sites will be located in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area, the other in the Lakeside-Santee area.

It is anticipated that the El Cajon Valley school can be constructed by Sept., 1955 and that this will prevent half-day sessions.

It is estimated that local bonding capacity will be sufficient to finance the immediate program. State funds will not be available because local resources must be used first. While the district has received an entitlement for federal funds, the prospect of a federal grant is dim because Congress has not appropriated enough money to cover its obligations to all of the districts which qualified under the impact of federal activities.

The bond issue would result in an increase in the tax rate of about 20 cents in the 1954-55 fiscal year. It is estimated that the additional tax on average homes (assessed at $4000) would be $8 per year. The increased rate would remain in effect until the district again qualifies for state aid or until the legislation is corrected to effect a 40 cent limitation on payment on local and state bonds.

Unless more classrooms are made available, the education of boys and girls in this area will

Destruction Of Road Signs Costs Taxpayers $250,000

Destruction of highway signs in Lemon Grove and other County areas has cost Southland taxpayers more than $250,000 in the past decade, according to a report released today by the Sign Posting Department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Most of the vandalism is done by motorists shooting at signs from their automobiles. This destructive "sport" has been most prevalent in rural areas adjacent to large population centers, such as Mission Valley near San Diego.

Last year it cost nearly $17,000 to replace signs mutilated by gunfire along Southland highways. Cost to replace each enamel-covered steel road marker runs more than $6.50. Under ordinary conditions these signs will last 30 years.
